SCHWAAB COMPANY AMAZON NATURAL PRODUCTS

Always providing what nature has to best!

Schwaab Company Cosmetics Amazon, is a company located in Porto Velho - Rondônia, in the Amazon Region, aiming at articulating partnerships with small associations, cooperatives and extrativists to sell the essences extracted from the forest in an ecologically correct way, transforming them into products of aggregate value, in such a way that we can put an excellent product in the market, both to the health and beauty of the skin.

Schwaab Company's production is guided by sustainability values, as the preservation of the Amazon, and also appreciates the social question, since we operate in the segment of the FAR TRADE, European fair trade market, and also along the FAIRMADE PLUS, an NGO that operates in the social inclusion.

The main raw material used in most of our products is Cupuaçu which has high absorption capacity of water, approximately 240% higher than the one of lanolin. This property makes it a product capable of assisting in the stability of emulsions, because the extract Cupuaçu is an emollient that provides a nice touch, softness and smoothness to the skin, enabling the recovery of natural moisture and elasticity of the skin especially in dry skin and mistreated. It also contains phytosterols (especially beta-sitosterol) that act on the cellular level by regulating the balance and activity of the lipid layer of skin. Phytosterols have been used topically to treat skin diseases and disorders by stimulating the healing process.
